Do you need to find the right
person for your workplace?

Our free Personalised
Employment Placement and Support service can help!

Health New Zealand
Te Whatu Ora

Many people are overcoming mental health or addiction challenges yet remain valuable team members in their workplaces and contributors to our communities.

A free employment placement and support service, Employment Works can find the right candidate to suit your business and will continue to support that person to be a reliable employee that turns up on time and provides a good day's work. As the employer, you will also receive our ongoing support.

You may already have an employee with a mental health or addiction condition, but don't have the expertise needed to support them or yourself. We can help.

We know there are many factors that contribute to living healthy and fulfilling lives. Meaningful employment is one of them and we are committed to helping those looking for work find it.

Let us help you in your endeavours to find suitable candidates for your business.
